

Topic: The Whispering Woods

As the sun started to go down in the woods, I thought to explore the old forest more.

While I was walking, the tall trees looked like they were telling me a story as I saw their leaves rustling in the wind.

The sunlight is peaking into the leaves which is leaving a nice pattern on the ground.

Suddenly, I saw a glow coming out of a tree. The mysterious light attracted me to it.

I was so curious that I decided to follow it. While I was walking, the air around me felt charged with something very special.

Finally, I came out in the ruined architecture which was lit up by the full moon.

The stones covered in moss seemed to be telling stories of kingdoms a long time ago.

Overall, it was a magical moment, being surrounded by the beauty of nature.
